ONE THING ONLY BETWEEN HIM AND DEATH—THAT ROPE.

TOO BUSY TO PRAY.

By AGGIE M. HEARN, Newton Center, Mass.

COMRADES in God's great Army,
A message to you I send;
Through life unto the end,
Think o'er the words of the message,
From a heart that is crushed, but brave.

That God's right hand is over all,
From the cradle to the grave.
That God's right hand is over us,
Always, by night and by day,
Though sometimes we do not think of Him.

We are often TOO BUSY TO PRAY,
Too busy with worldly pleasures,
And too full of worldly cares,
To give one thought to our Father,
Who all our sorrow shares.

Once I was careless ever,
Once TOO BUSY TO PRAY,
Too busy to think of the kind God
Who was watching o'er me each day;
My path was full of sunshine,
No sorrow had come my way;
Yes, it is true what I'm telling,
That I was TOO BUSY TO PRAY.

But times have changed since those days,
When I was TOO BUSY TO PRAY,
And sorrow too deep, too bitter for tears

Came in my path one day;
But God took advantage of sorrow
To speak to my troubled soul;
He lifted me up from the slough of de-
spond,
And pointed to Heaven, my goal.

"TOO BUSY TO PRAY!" what a meaning
In those words, if we read them
aright;
'Tis true we may kneel in prayer,
Every morning and every night;
But then, if our hearts never utter
The words that our lips carelessly say,
Then it is true, though we know not,
That we are TOO BUSY TO PRAY.

To every one of you, friends,
This message is freely given,
In hope that it may help you
On the road that leadeth to Heaven.
And now, let us unite,
Be strong, and true, and brave,
For God's right hand is over all,
From the cradle to the grave.

REALITIES OF PRAYER.

By ADJUTANT ARCHIBALD.

HERE is nothing like proper prayer, linked with every-day effort.

Generally speaking, we do much but expect little from our loving Lord, who delights not only to honor us, but to answer the request for all things needful.

In specialising, this universal need was laid on my heart, for almost everywhere the absence of a prevailing spirit of prayer was noticeable. Pray about everything, and anything that you cannot feel the smile of God upon—banish
it from your thoughts and action.

What a number of direct answers to prayer under various circumstances have we in the Bible! Many cases crowd on my memory. To encourage my comrades to carry everything in detail to God in prayer, let me give a few.

ABRAHAM'S servant prayed when he was seeking a wife for his master
Isaac, and he found the right one.
JACOB prayed as he wrestled with the angel, and before he departed received the blessing through him.
MOSES prayed, and his prayer opened up the Red Sea, and thus saved Israel.

HANNAH prayed, and Samuel was given.
DAVID prayed, and God gave victory
over the giant.

ELIJAH prayed, and his prayer shut
the windows of heaven; he prayed
again and his prayer brought abundant rain.

ISAIAH and HEZEKIAH prayed,
and an army of one hundred and eighty-five thousand men were destroyed in one night.

DANIEL prayed in the den of lions,
and his prayer shut the lions' mouths.
JONAH prayed in the belly of the whale, and the Lord brought him from the midst of the sea to dry land.

SEADRACH, MESHACH and ABE-NEGO prayed in the burning furnace, and their prayers kept them from the natural effect of fire. Oh my dear Comrades, in all these cases, terrified as they may be, we find them laying their need before the Lord with abundant evidence of His care and love. May we all do likewise.

THE SIGN OF THE CROSS.

[OUR SERIAL.]

BY THE AUTHOR OF "SCOTCH JANET."

Chapter II.—Dick Winter's Choice.

FOR DAYS the chief topic of conversation in Abernethy
was the bold invasion of "the Infidel Club" by Elsie Winter. If three men were seen at a street corner in eager conversation, one might be certain that the subject was the conduct of Dick Winter's sister in interrupting
the debate of the Young Men's Literary Club.

As far as one could judge, the popular feeling ran in favor of the brother although the sister had the support of the Provost, the U. P. minister, and the Christian section of the community; while Elsie's opponents, if we may call them so, freely admitted that her action was courageous and prompted by a worthy motive.

In the midst of all the talk and gossips, however, Elsie Winter deserved a respectful demeanor. She would not allow any one to say a harsh or uncharitable word against her brother, or enter into any discussion on his view.

"I delivered my message," she would content herself by saying, "and

I leave the consequences with God."

Dick Winter was not so disposed. His pride was very seriously wounded by the incident, his reputation among a certain class of readers of "The War Cry" considerably sullied, and his relationship to Maggie Anderson, strange to say, somewhat strained.

For several days he was anything
but civil to his sister, and on the occasion of his weekly visit to the home of Maggie Anderson, he was positively inreceived coldly. "Oh!—so you are buffed?"

"No, I'm not, Dick?"

"Why this coldness, then?"

"Sadness, you should rather say. I'm very unsettled. Dick, about you and me."

"Confound it—what does this mean, Maggie? Speak plainly, and not in parables. Be frank. Have I done anything to cause you sorrow? Tell me what is in your heart."

Maggie Anderson, as we have already suggested, was not a girl who was considered of exceptional character. Quiet, unassuming, and well-mannered, she had grown up and lived and moved among a circle whose doings did not gain much publicity. She was simply a modest and respectable Christian girl,
who promised to make a worthy wife
to Richard Winter.

"I will," she calmly answered her agitated lover, "I love you with all my heart, Dick; but since last Sunday morning, God has been showing me, I think, my responsibility to Him, in a new light."

"Oh! Elsie has been inoculating you with more of her doctrine," interrupted Richard Winter, in his journalistic style.

"That's no' worthy of you, Dick," retorted the girl, breaking into her pure native dialect. "Elsie has no' been infecting me, but I have a mind
and a heart of my ain."

"I beg pardon, Maggie—go on—only I fancied your language sounded very much like hers."

"Which is major to her credit than mine."

"You are not worthy of being my sister."

sulting to the former. But she, good woman—even if eccentric and indiscreet
—took her brother's remarks with becoming meekness.

"You are not worthy of being my sister," he said, with cutting bitterness in his tone, "and I would sooner be

An Out-and-Out Infidel

than follow your Christianity."

"Because, Dick," Elsie answered,
quietly, "you mistake my Christianity."

"And what is it, pray?"

"Love," Elsie replied.

"Oh! it is love, is it, to publicly insult your brother? Love to make out that a body of gentlemen are infidels
because they do not swallow the Shorter Catechism? Love to set the whole town talking about me as if I had committed some offense? If that is what you call love, may I never know it!"
Saying which he darted out of the room,
leaving Elsie to reflect upon the wisdom of her action.

When Dick Winter arrived at the Anderson's, he was surprised to learn that Maggie had not been at home
for several hours, and still more so to find her, when she did arrive, assuming a reserved and cold manner.

"Nothing serious has happened, Maggie? Home affairs all right? Or,"

The Gossip-Mongers of Abnethy

been upsetting your equilibrium?" And he put his hand in hers, but without it on observing that the act was now

Winter did not like this, but he let it pass.

"The light I have was got through

Reading a book of Mrs. Booth's

the wife of the founder of The Salvation Army."

An irreverent smile crossed Winter's features. "And what was its purport—
its argument?"

"I cannot call it a book with an argument. It is a book with a revelation."

"And what is the revelation?"

On separation from the world,
There's two kinds of separation—the outward and inward, I'm afraid my Christianity is a poor, miserable, outward thing. I have thought over and over and over, Dick, to be quite candid with you, this book has given me such a mental and spiritual shaking
that I ought to tell you this morning that I feel that, in justice to you, as well as to my own conscience, the question of our engagement should be reconsidered."

Richard Winter, who never for one moment imagined such a possibility,
refused to credit his senses, and, impulsively, rose and gazed at Maggie Anderson. "In the name of all
that's sacred,

What do You Mean?

"Your views and mine are at variance, Dick. I believe in a living, personal, present Saviour—you believe in an historic, phantom sort of Christ."
"But what does that matter, Maggie?
Our religious beliefs need not interfere with our personal and mutual love

and affection."

"Unless I can give you all my heart
and soul, Dick, I'll give none. Of that I am certain."

Dick Winter fell into a chair, and came with surprise and emotion. "This I suppose, comes of attending to Elsie's calls the Infidel Club."

"BALAAM AND HIS ASS."

Numbers xxii, 2-35.

TERROR IN THE ENEMY'S CAMP.

GOD had been showing Balaam strong on behalf of the men of Israel. They had wonderful victories over some of the very foes whom the spies had told him
they would never be able to conquer.
Naturally the tidings of the remarkable success which they had already had struck terror into the hearts of other tribes—Moab was one of these.

BALAK'S MESSAGE.

No doubt Balak, the King of Moabites, felt that he had no army which was strong enough to keep the powerful Israelites from coming to conquer the land, so he resorted to other means. He sent for Balaam, who was evidently considered a kind of prophet, to secure the Israelites' defeat.
His request was that Balaam would come up to him and pronounce a curse
upon the children of Israel, thinking
so doing to bring about the discomfiture
of his enemies.

GOD SAYS NO.

But Balaam consulted the Lord about the King's message, and the result was a reply that forbade Balaam from accepting it. The Lord told Balaam that he could not curse the people for he were blessed.

It is impossible to curse those upon whom rests the blessing of God. Those who enjoy His favor, live in His love,
and who are strong in the assurance that their steps are guided and protected by Jehovah, cannot be cursed.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT.

But Balak felt that if he did not receive the curse of Balaam upon the Israelites his great chance of overthrowing them was gone, so he made another attempt to win Balaam's presence and aid. This time he sent more important messengers, and they besee-ched him with the King's promise of all kinds of riches and treasures if Balaam
would condescend to come with them.

PARLEYING WITH GOD.

At first Balaam returned them a straight and decided answer, and told them that even if they gave him the King's house full of silver and gold he would not disobey the word of God. He instead of sending them right away
once and for all, Balaam added that he would consult God about the matter.
Now Balaam knew very well what the Lord had said about the people being blessed and ought not to have continued the matter, but he asked the Lord again, and to teach Balaam a lesson for his perversity the Lord gave him permission to go.

A SPEAKING ASS.

Balaam must have been very surprised when the ass opened her mouth
and gave the dumb creature a voice because Balaam was striking her for not going on. The ass had seen the angel in the way, which Balaam did not discover until afterwards. How often a dumb creature in obedience and devotion has taught lessons to many an intelligent man.

AN ANGEL OPPOSES.

God has often sent an angel, whether
seen or unseen, to warn and to reprove.
Let us take care that we do not try to push past these angels. The very sight of the angel sent conviction into Ba-laam's heart, and he said he would go back, but the Angel told him that God
would allow him to go on now to Balak,
but he must only say just what God said,
which would be as Balaam well knew exactly the opposite to what Balak had sent him to say. So that in the end the part that he had to play was much harder than if he had maintained
his refusal to go with the men.

QUESTIONS.

1. Why was the King of Moab afraid?
2. What did he want Balaam for?
3. What wrong thing did Balaam do?
4. What means did God use to give him his sin and what miracle did He perform?

'I'm the child of a King.'

The moment I went on my knees the Devil suggested, "What a fool you are! Do you think coming out and getting drenched in the dust will help you? How silly it all is!" etc., etc., I almost laughed outright at what seemed for the moment such a foolish and weak step for me to take. Then the inward voice spoke again, "NOW IS YOUR

I was present at the first Holy Spirit meeting. Little was known of the doctrine, and it was understood less. I had not definitely professed it in public, but I had been a member of the church for years past failures, and the thought, "If I, after professing so much, if I should be a failure again, I will be a laughing stock to the man who had anointed me at the first by his peculiar mode of laying on of hands." I thought of the Romans vi. "SHALL WE CONTINUE IN SIN THAT GRACE MAY ABUNDANTLY BE GORED FORTH?" His words were ringing in my ears, and my faith, and when the meeting was thrown open for those who could testify to the work of the anointing, I could not must speak. It was a great struggle, and as I stood up the inspiration came out in great drops. I simply said, "I have been a member of the church for nearly twelve years, (although at times I have been a failure,) and I have been in the good mercy of God I have at all times been able to testify to this anointing. I have been a faithful and a faithful." May my faithfulness be enlarged, and His working in me increased.

By MAJOR COLLIER.

THE "SOLDIER" is now over, but the results will still go on and many will yet be won as the result of this special effort. The Officers and Soldiers have taken hold and God has honored them and given the victory. The majority of the enlistments are in the best of health and
a whole affair, and future prospects are all.

One of the new recruits at Portage
a Prairie is already playing a brass instrument and will no doubt be commanding in due time as a bandsman
that Corps.

Bandsman Hahlikirk, of Winnipeg,
the Sergeant-Major's stripes and has been appointed as Sergeant. The Sergeant-Major, who better fitted for the post than the man who won seven badges?

Brother Herringshaw, himself only over on Self-Denial Sunday, 1926, and arrived at the last Parliament here, has been distinguished himself and now wears the stripes as a Sergeant, and will no doubt enlist many yet.

Several others have enlisted two and three, and will get their badges of merit, and God will reward them all early as the Cadets in the Garrison allotted one or more.

Brother S., one of the new Soldiers at Winnipeg, has been wearing his "S." in the store where he works for some weeks before he was enrolled, and now wears a Junior Soldier Company, so the uniforms are benefited thereby.

Brother H., only enrolled at the last Parliament, sat up till 2 a.m., trying to sell his wife, who was saved, to become a Soldier, and at last succeeded. She is now one of the "Serge" Soldiers at Winnipeg.

Altogether we have succeeded in enrolling a half-hundred in the District.
Ensign Walton in command, 1; Merton, 2; Portage La Prairie, 3; Emerson, 4; and Saskatchewan, 5. The total is 15.

These are not only Soldiers in number, but a good lot of people. One gent, told me the other night that he enrolled at Winnipeg, and I have no doubt
he will not get all yet.

OUR PLATFORM.

A Talk on HOLINESS by Candidate
H. H. Marttari, Centerville, P.E.I.

HOLINESS IMPLIES HUMILITY, without which it can never be attained, for when we consider that God is the very personification of the very essence of holiness, while we have been degraded by sin and wrong-doing, time and again, must we not come in the very deepest humility to ask God for this mighty blessing? Let us, therefore, AS SALVATIONISTS, look deeply into our hearts, if we have not yet received this cleansing, and we will surely see the great need of it. Oh, my dear Comrades, let us be in earnest about this matter in order that God can work in us all the good pleasure of His will. Let us not entirely lose from the world, even the very last word that may bind us to anything earthly, for if we do not our hearts cannot be in a receptive state for holiness.

HOW I WOULD LIKE TO SOUND IT OUT with you, my dear Comrades, that would arouse the sleepy, lukewarm Christians of today. "WITHOUT HOLINESS NO MAN SHALL SEE THE LORD." Do you realize it, my dear brother? Do you?—that without this cleansing we will never, never be of much use to God, here, nor for Heaven? God cannot fully use the person who is not lying in clay in the sufferer's hands. God cannot trust a person with His secrets who is not wholly the Lord's.

DO NOT THINK that the Lord is unwilling to sanctify you, for we read in God's Word that this is "THE CONFIDENCE THAT WE HAVE IN HIM, THAT IF WE ASK ANYTHING ACCORDING TO HIS WILL HE HEARETH US." Now, my dear brother, if He will, and we read that "THIS IS THE WILL OF GOD, EVEN YOUR SANCTIFICATION."

SO MANY PEOPLE think they can grow into this experience, but I have never met one yet that did. I have met quite a few who received it instantaneously. People seem so slow to take the best that God has for them. Then there are others who, when you talk to them about it, "Yes, they believe it is all right, and expect to have it some time, but think it rather a high experience for them just now." That is just the way the devil put me off for a long time, but when God's Spirit said, "NOW, NOW IS THE TIME," I yielded to Him.

DO YOU KNOW what an unsanctified heart reminds me of?—a nice garden with beautiful plants growing in it, at least which is not a weed to be weeded, because they have been all weeded off, but the roots are there, and just you wait a while, they will begin to spring up and cause trouble to the gardener. So we may go to God and have him cut off all our sins, but there are yet some roots of bitterness remaining in the heart, and fully surrendered, which are very apt to blossom out in temper, pride, worldliness, selfishness, or some other kindred sin. It is this hidden, latent sin which must be cast out. This will make us right indeed with God, will make us aggressive, make us zealous for God and souls as nothing else will to so great an extent.

BROUGHT TO CHRIST BY A CHILD.

MR. HERMAN BOOTH has been holding a series of services at Halloway, and at these services his little daughter Miriam (his third daughter) found the hearts of some as she went fishing, and brought tears to many eyes. "I do want you to come to Jesus," she pleaded, with her arms round the neck of a young woman.

For fully twenty minutes the pleading was in vain, until, in desperation, Miriam said, "You may not get another chance, sister." The lass yielded, and allowed a "little child" to lead her to the Mercy Seat. (Shouts of "Hallelujah" and "Hallelujah.") But this was not the only victory of Miriam's. Her prayers and pleadings helped "Mary's man" to the Cross. And thereafter a tale.

It seems that Miriam's sister—Mary—was present on the previous Sunday night, and during the meeting took a special interest in one man. On bidding her younger sister good-bye on the Saturday, she said: "Miriam, look out for my man!"

Miriam, who had been furnished with a clear description of him, soon discovered him, and had the joy of helping him to Calvary. At any rate, he was among the men who were made this Sunday night so conspicuous in this wonderful enterprise.—The Sunday Companion.

Adj. Bradley

Tells the Editor Something About Bracebridge.

ADJUTANT BRADLEY, late of Bracebridge District, has gone on a tour (with Mrs. Bradley) after a year's spell of work. He dropped in at the Editorial Office looking for another fight already. He reports a beautiful success accomplished by God's blessing during his six months' charge of the Bracebridge District, and has some very eulogistic remarks to make about that part of the country which he considers to be as favorably disposed and as enthusiastic towards the Army, or even more so, than any place between Toronto and the North-West.

Questioned about the results of the SUNDAY at Bracebridge, the Adjutant said that he had just enrolled thirteen adults and some juniors before leaving Bracebridge. The whole District will add about thirty-five new Soldiers to the roll, which will be made up, roughly speaking, as follows: Annie Harbor, twelve; Halloway, nine; Parry Sound and Bracebridge would make up the balance, with five recruits left at Bracebridge to be enrolled the first opportunity.

ADJUTANT AND MRS. BRADLEY.

The Adjutant leaves at Bracebridge about fifty Soldiers, who are active and left the barracks and quarters in good trim, plenty of food on hand, and thirty cords of wood to keep out Jack Frost in the coming winter. There is evidently no trouble to get wood down at Bracebridge. The Adjutant called for volunteers for wood-chopping one day, and a dozen people responded, the result of their day's work being 26 cords cut. That means that they went to the woods, cut down the trees, cross-cut the tree-trunks into two-foot lengths, and then split the blocks into sizes convenient for a box-stove. There was a good deal of muscular Salvation about this.

The Sunday night congregations averaged from 150 to 250, and the total weekly attendances for all meetings was seldom under 1,000. Finances must be pretty good down that way, as the Adjutant has appealed successfully for Self-Denial fund, raised $55.00 for the Indian Family Fund, (which beat the record of the Territory) and wound up with a farewell banquet held simultaneously with the Junior Soldier Annual, netting $20.00, the bulk of which was clear after all expenses were paid.

The Adjutant left two Candidates for training at Bracebridge, and one young fellow is already in the Training Home.

dition of the children's work, and Chancellor Watson, who recently visited Bracebridge, said it would compare favorably with the Champion Corps of the Province.

A parent one Sunday took his child to the Army Junior meeting and requested to be allowed to stay through the service and see for himself what was done. He was so satisfied with the work of the Army for children that he decided there and then to send his children, and gave his verdict in the following words: "Well, I consider this is good; you cannot fail to do a work for God. It meets my approval."

A valuable feature in connection with the work was a "Sword class," conducted by Mrs. Bradley for the young women of the Corps, which proved very helpful, especially to the recently converted. Mrs. Bradley took the lessons in "All the World" for the Junior Cadets and gave them to the girls to study, then on Monday night at the regular meeting these lessons were reviewed.

The Adjutant speaks highly of the kindness of the Soldiers, who were willing to share the good things of this life with him whenever he needed. He says that in every respect they are a credit to the Salvation Army. He remarked, too, by the way, that he had

INSTRUCTIVE ITEMS.

Of 128,842 arrests in New York last year, 17,847 were women.

The people of the United States smoke 115,000 tons of tobacco annually.

The total cost of the Queen and the Royal Family to the United Kingdom is $185,000 a year.

The new White Star Line steamer Oceanic is to be the longest of all vessels, 702 feet against the Great Eastern's 678. Her displacement, 17,000 tons, will be less than that of the Great Eastern by 1,915 tons.

The greatest living authority on Indian statistics calculates that from 30,000,000 to 40,000,000 people scarcely ever lose the sensation of hunger—in fact, do not know the feeling of a full stomach, except in the mango season.

The upper floors of New York or Boston or Chicago "sky-scrapers" during a high wind are prone to "rocking." Mr. Harry Lawrence, a tenant of the notable American Tract Society's building, in Nassau street, New York, is responsible for the statement, that that giant edifice sways a foot in an average high wind, and during a gale even exceeds that limit.

A late Chief of Police in N. Y. City testified that 75 per cent. of the abandoned girls of that city are ruined by dancing. A Roman Catholic Bishop of New York makes the startling statement that the work of the Confessional revealed the fact that 19 out of every 20 women who fall and are lost, can trace the beginning of their downward career to the modern dance.

On the night of the budget speech by Hon. W. S. Fielding (who, by the way, has taken a prominent part in some Salvation Army demonstrations in the Maritime Provinces,) 48,847 words were telegraphed from Ottawa to the Toronto Globe. Three-fourths of this came after 11 o'clock, and the paper was delivered in the extreme limits of the city before 7 o'clock next morning.

In Great Britain it has been arranged that at 10 o'clock on the night of Queen Victoria's Jubilee day, beacon fires shall be lit all over the mother country. It is suggested that the idea should be extended to the whole empire, "so that on one particular night commemorative bonfires are blazing all around the world—lighting up a fiery cross to signify peace, prosperity and progress for all who enjoy and profit by the beneficent sway of Victoria the Great."

Rudyard Kipling, the poet of the British Empire, has celebrated the recent changes in the Canadian tariff by a poem in which he calls Canada "Our Lady of the Snows." The term has not been appreciated here, many poets have replied rejecting the title. Says one, in respect to Canada:

"She has woods of pine and maple
Where England might be lost;
To ships that are unimpeded;
She has fields of wheat unbounded,
Where the whole horizon glows,
And the hot sun laughs to hear her styled,
"Our Lady of the Snows."

A wholesale manufacturer of photographic materials, whose establishment is in a lofty building near Fifth Avenue, New York, uses very heavy machinery, which renders the building top-heavy in the extreme. During a wind, there was always fear of the machinery being driven through the somewhat thin walls, or windows thereby wrecking the building and menacing passers-by. He caused his floor to be partially zinc-lined, and converted into a gigantic tank. This he flooded with water. Then huge pontoons, or rafts, were constructed, and set adrift upon the surface of this strange twelfth-storey lake. The pontoons were anchored to the walls on all sides, by heavy chains and rivets. When these preparations were completed, he had his heavy machinery unhooked upon the pontoons. Thus the building may rock as it will, but the dreaded masses of steel are safely anchored, and all danger from them is neutralized.

"True repentance is a permanent change of character and conduct."

Show me a man or woman that loves to hear a secret and tell it, and I will show one who is already a backslider, and who will grow worse and worse unless he repent.—Finney.

WAR CRY

OUR REVOLVING WHEEL.

THE machinery of the Army is ever moving, catching one here, another there, and transferring them to new scenes of labor. One time it is a Soldier who gets his orders for the Training Garrison, again it is a Cadet who packs his trunk to make the great start of his career as a Salvationist; then it is the Field Officer who, on receipt of a bit of printed paper, rushes to the depot for perhaps a thousand-mile whirl on the cars; again it is the Provincial Officer who, like his comrades, gets his orders, pulls up stakes, and moves on, and so the great wheel keeps revolving.

A NEW ORANGE.

JUST at the present a good number of all ranks, some of them the princes in our Israel, are getting caught in the whirl, as the Chief Secretary's notes will divulge. The time is propitious; the summer, with all its great possibilities for Salvation warfare, is upon us. May God make such comrades equal to his opportunities in the new sphere which awaits him.

Brigadier Read at London.

(Special.)

LONDON, the Forest City, booming. Brigadier Read's visit huge success. Monday crowd Saturday night on Market Square, famous old battle-ground. Twelve lasses in white, forming ambrel band. Great Free-and-Easy. One Soul. Six a.m. knee-drill Sunday 42 present; three seeking deliverance. Deeply spiritual holiness meeting; three crying for mercy; a spirit of deep conviction rested on the people. Opened Summer Campaign in Victoria Park. Lovely crowd. Over $2 collection on drum. 37 on afternoon march. Barracks full afternoon. One soul. Huge wind storm, thunder and lightning all night. Hurt crowd but failed to dampen ardor of troops, who fought gallantly inside. One soul. Corps in blessed state. Total souls, nine. Great expectations for Colonel Jacob's Councils. Brigadier and Mrs. Margaret's Farewell meetings. Full report following.

THE SIEGE AT LISGAR ST.

The following Officers speccalled on behalf of the Siege: Brigadier Commander, Brigadier and Mrs. Read, Major and Mrs. Gaskin, Staff-Captain Minnie, Adjutant Pease, Ensign Kenning and the Headquarters' Staff Band. Esquire Shea and Page, also Adjutant Hay, of the Junior War. Twenty-six souls knelt at the Cross for pardon, and twenty-three were added to the roll, besides ten Juniors. Soldiers turned out well and worked well. Open-air work was well organized by Companies. Cadets worked hard.

THE QUEEN'S DIAMOND JUBILEE.

Ten Millions of People to be in London—The Army's Colaboration.

THE QUEEN'S DIAMOND JUBILEE will draw ten millions of people, and London will be, during the month of June, one vast arena of internationalism. People from all parts, and speaking all languages will come to do honor to the illustrious lady who occupies the British Throne. The General is engaged in formulating some plans for celebrating the Jubilee on a scale worthy of the Army, and the event. It is proposed to devote an entire week to representative Salvation Army work. The General has also decided upon a representative demonstration of the Army's work in the British Empire and other parts of the world, to be held in the Royal Albert Hall on Tuesday, June 15th. It will be a great affair.

A SALVATION TORNADO.

The Commandant at the Theatre Royal, Melbourne—Sixty-Two Souls.

THE following despatch from the latest Melbourne War Cry to hand describes the kind of Salvation days the Commandant is having in his new command:

The Commandant conducted three monster meetings in the Theatre Royal yesterday. Unfortunately Mrs. Booth was absent through indisposition;

great sympathy expressed on all sides. Both afternoon and evening the crowds were gigantic. At night the pit, stage, and three galleries were packed, and made a never-to-be-forgotten picture. Hundreds were refused admission. The Commandant delivered a powerful address, which wrought mighty conviction. Throughout the prayer-meeting the scene baffled description, penitents coming from the top gallery and dress circle. Enthusiasm unbounded; when results were announced sixty-two (62) souls had knelt at the Mercy-Seat, mostly for Salvation. The soul-saving wave is rising. Hallelujah!—Ethereal-ton.

COLONEL AND MRS. BAILEY'S Last Sunday in Australia—Glorious Victories at Sydney I.

COLONEL AND MRS. BAILEY, late in command of Army work in South Australia, sailed from Sydney for Japan, to which country they have been appointed, on April 2nd. They have had a series of splendid farewell meetings, their last being at Sydney, N. S. W., of which the War Cry there says:

"Magnificent farewell to Colonel and Mrs. Bailey at the City Temple yesterday; twenty-five seekers and over 416 collections for the day."

At one of his farewell meetings, the Colonel explained that, some eight years ago he had volunteered to make one of a party of Salvationists to go to Japan, though he had never contemplated being placed in command. His offer had been pigeonholed all these years, and now he was being called upon to take up the work to which Mrs. Bailey and himself had offered to devote their lives. God and their General had taken them at their word.

COLONEL and MRS. BAILEY and FAMILY, Recently Appointed in Charge of Our Operations in Japan.

and he was glad to say, both for himself and Mrs. Bailey, that they were in as good heart over the business as they had ever been. They were going to Japan gladly, to live amongst the Japanese after the Japanese fashion, to wear the native dress, and as far as was consistent with their profession as Salvationists, to embrace Japanese habits and customs, so that they might win the natives for God.

GREAT ADVANCES IN SOUTH AFRICA.

DURING a recently concluded six-months' boom in Salvation Army operations in South Africa, shelters have been opened in Capetown, Johannesburg, Pretoria, Port Elizabeth; two Food Depots and four Rescue Homes are doing splendid work amongst women, an Inebriates' wing has been added to the Social Farm and Home, and five day schools for children have been opened.

CHICAGO ENDORSES the ARMY'S PLAN For Helping Discharged Convicts.

AT A MEETING of the Executive Committee of the Union of Associated Charities and the Philanthropic Committee of the Civic Federation, Chicago, the plan for the temporary care and re-establishment of discharged convicts proposed by Lieutenant Colonel Revolver, of the Salvation Army, was carefully considered and unanimously approved.

Don't despise the small places. Colonel Brenner, Adjutant Miles and Mrs. Adjutant Bradley, all famous Officers, came from Minesing, a small place near Barrie, which has neither a Salvation Army Corps or Outpost.

An intelligent girl who had been saved and a Soldier in one of our Corps for two or three years, told the Officers that during all that time she had never possessed a Bible. How badly would she be placed for fighting Satan without the Sword of the Spirit.

Adjutant Bradley addressed the congregations in the Baptist and Presbyterian churches, Minesing, morning and afternoon of Sunday. His text in the morning was the Golden Text from the Sunday-school lesson, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature." In the afternoon he subjected was, "The work of the Salvation Army."

ALREADY there is a great anxiety
upon the part of some interested parties to know where they may be sent. Up to the present time only one has received Marching Orders. Staff-Captain Hawling has received his appointment
as Chancellor to the East Ontario Province, and will, we have not the least doubt, make a noble assistant to Brigadier Sharp in the many pressing and perplexing problems pertaining to that Province. God bless East Ontario's new Chancellor!

We are pleased to be able to say that Brigadier Margetts will be able to have a good rest, which he so much
needs, and which he so much deserves.
His faithful toil and labor of love, and the great exertions which he has put forth to bring the West Ontario Province to its present standing is well-known to all, and very much appreciated, especially by the Field Commissioner. We do not expect to be in a position to make known his future appointment for some time to come yet.

THE FIELD COMMISSIONER
especially desires that Mrs. Margetts and the Brigadier shall have a time free from all care and anxiety. We join in with thousands of others in wishing them God-speed and every blessing.
There is a big farewell at the present time in the West Ontario Province in which nearly all the Staff Officers are more or less implicated. The farewell Comrades are now in progress. The Sunday's meetings at London were a great success. Owing to certain complications the Chief Secretary was unable to be present. Brigadier Head took his place, where at the present time

he is conducting the farewell Councils.

AS to whether there are any further changes on the Territorial Headquarters, I did hear that there are others
which may be implicated, but then, it never does to make a statement in the War Cry simply on "hear-say" report.
I hope next week to be in a position
to give a more definite statement.

Most cheering news comes to hand
from Major Fugate, from Bermuda.
He has had a wonderful time. Up to date of writing he states: "Already we have had 100 souls, 30 of these for Salvation. Arrangements are in progress for the opening of two more places." From his report of Bermuda, it must be something like Heaven, for
he states it is summer all the year round.

MAJOR MCILLAN has had one of the most wonderful experiences of his life this past winter. He reports the reval at Carbonar and Harbor Grace still goes on. The prospects in Newfoundland are still as bright as ever.
Steadily and surely we are gaining ground. The Food Depot at St. John's has been a great success. Other plans and proposals are on the Board, but not sufficiently matured to make a statement on.

THE FIELD COMMISSIONER and
the Staff Band are conducting meetings at Bowmanville next Sunday. Full reports of the same may be expected in next week's War Cry.

HALIFAX II.—Death has visited us
once more and claimed one of our Local Officers. SERGEANT MINNIE MURRAY passed away on Monday night, April 19th, after two short weeks
of intense suffering, leaving a blessed testimony behind of the sustaining grace of God. We buried her with Army honors. No. 1 Brass Band turned out to a man and rendered good service all the way to the grave. Some 60 Comrades marched, singing. Adjutant Creighton conducted the Service, assisted by Adjutant McLean and Captain Thompson. Our dear Comrade
had been a Soldier for some two years.
She leaves behind her two children and a husband to mourn their loss. We held a Memorial Service Sunday night,
and one precious soul sought Salvation.

We have just returned home from a week's meetings at Brigs, which proved a blessing to many souls. Although it was hard at first to work the meetings, the Comrades being away to

tory and about TEN SOULS FOR SAL-VATION and TWENTY-FIVE for the blessing. Captain Harris and Lieutenant Greenland seem to have the thing

ing them in building up that Corps.

The Work all Round Advancing.

SINCE LAST REPORT, we have been having wonderful times
all over the Island. Reports reach us from North and South of many souls seeking God and saints rejoicing in the liberty of the children of God.

Our Northern Comrades are just beginning to thaw out, or the ice is just beginning to break up so that they will be able to get the War Cry more regularly as the steam boats will be able to run that way again.

Ensign Newman and Parsons have just returned home from a tour round
their District, and report everything going on very nicely. As yet they are not able to give the exact figures of the SIEGE, but they expect there will be quite a number added to the roll.

Ensign Moss writes that FORTY-
SEVEN of her NEW CONVERTS ARE GOING TO BE ENROLLED. This, I am sure, will be a great fit for Carbonar, and with such a Flood and Fire
band, things will be kept going ahead.

Harbor Grace has got a move on indeed. The seating room of the platform is taxed to its utmost capacity, and still converts are coming. Those that have visited Harbor Grace in days gone by would hardly know it now. It is no longer a stiff place for a meeting,
but it seems to take the place of all other ranting Corps. God has wonderfully blessed Ensign Allan in doing
a blessed work there.

We have just returned home from a

The saddest thing, and yet
the most blessed that has happened for some time, occurred
while we were conducting the meetings there. An old gentleman by the name of Mr. A. Busby, who has stayed many times and testified that God was all in all to him, stood for the last time and warned the sinners of the shortness of time, and the great necessity of getting ready to meet God;

before he had finished his testimony he passed away.

I shall never forget him as he rose up to give his testimony. It seemed that his whole soul was drawn out after God, and that God was so very near him, nearer than what any one thought
of. While giving his testimony he said:
"Friends, if God was to require my soul now,

Sudden Death Would be Saddest Glory.
and about five minutes later, while we were singing "Home by-and-bye when the journey is o'er," etc., he fell asleep in Jesus. How true! "Blessed is the soul that die in the Lord; yea, saith the Spirit, they rest from their labors, and their works do follow them!" He had finished his work, which I believe was faithfully done, and has gone to receive his reward.

This should be a warning to every sinner to prepare to meet his God.

The plans of the new Barracks for St. John's No. 1, have just arrived and already tenders are coming in for it.
The Soldiers and friends are delighted with it, and say it will be just the building. In a short time it will no longer be "Old No. 1," but "New
No. 1."

The Food and Shelter is making rapid strides to success. The place is crowded. Sleeping accommodation is far too small. We are just now fitting up eight more beds so that others will be able to get a comfortable night's lodgings.

Captain Snooks has far outdone from the Slum Work, and has taken charge
of Bay Roberts Corps. Lieutenant Meyer is now in charge and is assisted by Lieutenant LeDrew, and according to reports they are proving a great blessing to many poor families of St. John's.

We are believing that they are going to make it a grand success.

The "Salvationist" will soon be ready to start on her mission to visit the coasts around the Island and to administer to the spiritual needs of the people.

We are also sending Salvation Army
Literature and other goods on her, so that while the Officers are preaching Salvation to the people they will have a chance to sell the goods, doing it all for Jesus, knowing that every cent they fit will go for the extension of His Kingdom.

Yours Affectionately,

ALFRED MONTAGAN,
Prov. Officer.

Spent meeting Thursday night. About seventy-five present to see King Grace McKenzie conduct our Siege Enrolment, when eight new comrades took their stand as Soldiers of the Salvation Army. One sister, who was just enrolled, got so happy she had to jump. There are others to be enrolled later on. Jennie Solo, Special Cor.

Last Thursday night SARAFATU, ONT. enrolled ten recruits.—H. Smith, H. Liston, C. O. S.

FARGO, N.D.

The Soldiers are going in for more of God and Holiness and keeping well together. We have moved into our new hall with a stronger determination than ever to bring sinners to God. Hallelujah!—Annie Lindberg.

MOOSE JAW, N.W.T.

Enrolment of recruits, etc. Exit Bros. McGregor and Smyth. Enter Sergeant Major McGregor and Sergeant Smyth. Victory 1-2. H. Midgah, H. C.

TWENTY-TWO NEW SOLDIERS AT MONTREAL I.

The Siege at Montreal I. has been a success in every sense of the word. Twenty-two Soldiers have been added to our ranks, and amongst them being some fine cases, who, we expect will eventually become Officers. The large platform of our barracks is filling up rapidly, and it was a pleasant sight on Thursday night to see a solid body of men and women on the same. The first converts of the Siege were some of the best workers, and were the means of getting other Soldiers. The large course, entitled them to two battens. Convert Sergeant George Colley was promoted Sergeant-Major as a result of getting other Soldiers. He had, also, Mrs. Duncan received a badge for getting two. Soul-saving is going on, although the Siege has finished. Two fine cases of conversion on Sunday night.—F. R. B.

THE SERAPHICUS DISBAND.

A Resume of Seven Months' Successes—35,229 Adults Attend Their Meetings—300 at the Cross.

I think our Band (as far as I know) is the first to special all through a Canadian winter. We organized in September, 1895, spent seven hours a day to practice for two weeks, and seven months' special meetings, disbanded on April 20th, 1897. The Band contained some of the very best talent that the Salvation Army could produce in Canada. One of the notable features was the playing of Bandmaster Kessler on his cornet. Many expressed the opinion that he was a band in himself. Our weakest points were the Billings, but this was a lack of numbers, for the players.

The following was the personnel of the Band:

1st Bb. cornet, Bandmaster Kessler, Windsor, Ont.; 1st Bb. cornet, Hansman, Toronto, Ont.; 1st Bb. cornet, Ingersoll, Ont.; 1st Bb. cornet, Ernest Creighton, Sussex, N. B.; 2nd baritone, Captain Dean, Dundas, Ont.; 1st Eb. tenor, Captain Potte, Simoes, Ont.; 1st Bb. guitar, Edmond, Bandmaster, St. Catharines, Ont.; 1st Bb. solo euphonium, Adjutant Archibald (in command) Truro, N. S.; 1st Eb. bass, Captain Bickham, "All Over"; drummer, Bandmaster Brickman, Windsor, Ont.

What was generally termed the "Spring Band" was composed of the following instruments: 1st clarinet in Bb.; concertina in Bb.; three guitars, (one 1st, two 2nd); one banjo, one autoharp, (Zimmerman), one O and C bass, producing very sweet music, also accompanying the voices in solo or choruses. This helps in the meetings wonderfully and relieves the noise and crash of too much brass in a musical demonstration, (for small halls especially).

Financially the Band was a success, but I cannot give you the figures, as they are in the daily and weekly report forms sent to Headquarters, but the following items may prove of interest:

Number of miles travelled—train-trips—and on foot, 2,476 miles.

Number of meetings held in churches, town halls, and barracks, 252.

Number of open-air demonstrations, 298.

We endured many a hardship by way of hunger, (places where no tickets could be procured), break-downs by way of risks in blizzards and snow—kept the blood in circulation.)

Meetings in many places where no Army existed, in churches, Town Halls, etc., had an attendance of 35,229 adults and nearly as many children at our meetings, and had the joy of pointing out THIRTEEN HUNDRED SOLDIERS to the feet of Jesus at our resident forms.

The kindness of the Staff and Field Officers was universal; many have been the regrets spoken of the disbanding of our band, but we were organized for a special object, and that object has been realized, hence the disbanding is necessary.

Our Brigadier used to visit us occasionally for a week-end and was the means of much blessing. We feel badly to see our loved leader so broken down. God bless our hard-working and ever-thoughtful Brigadier. If he may and sympathize will help him through, both he and Mrs. Margetts have it in abundance. From us loyal and devoted a host of officers in West Ontario Province as you will find anywhere.

WATER WARFARE AT EMERSON.

Copy of a letter received from Captain Wilkins by Major Collier.

Emerson, May 1st, 1897.

My Dear Major:—I am home once more; started Thursday morning from Glasgow, arrived at 8 A.M. Monday, where I posted your letter from Netty and I started then on our homeward-bound voyage, and a voyage it was before I got home. Arrived at Carlisle 8 P.M., anchored for the night. Of again at 9 A.M. bound East to McArthur. Couldn't reach Pembina by regular route; reason, Iceland Coast. Culver, ship sailed away. Arrived McArthur 10.30, distance made good five miles; laid to for dinner, abandoned Netty (this is wrong), she was very sick, others wise with me; put out again 1 P.M. bound north.

Nothing happened for five miles, and a bad run. About 2.30 alighted water running over railroad track; tempted to turn back; encountered again to go on; 2.50, reached water, very deep. Walked through with loads and socks under arm and pants tucked up to knees. Just got over, saw a train coming; had to put on extra speed and run before it. 3.10 reached a gang repairing railway track; got a lift in empty train three-quarters mile. 3.30, passed Pembina all under water. Everything continuing one mile pretty good. 4 P.M. came to a place where the railway stood before the flood, stood and considered, tempted to turn back to Pembina and get a boat. Section man said, "Get across!" I went, after getting boots and socks in to dryer regions half-way across, water getting rather deep and muddy and couldn't tell where I was going to step next. At this time I was wading a grade about ten feet high; tried to keep along the middle, made a failure of it, got to a place where the mud was soft; one foot went into something like quicksand; tried to get this out and put the other in; began to think about my friends a bit, but got out all O.K. only a little wet. Got on to a bridge and dressed my lower extremities again. Stuck N.E. two miles to escape water; met a man, seeling; struck bargain with him; he had a boat and couldn't row. I could row and had no boat; he wanted some seed wheat from a mile distant; I agreed to get to Emerson two miles distant. I fetched his wheat and stayed with him over night, and he loaned me the boat to get home with and home I am. Lieutenant all O.K. He and Mr. Christie rescued a boat-load from a watery grave the other day. The party was out for a little row; he had a capsize; no fatalities; also found out when I arrived home that another military boat was added to the S. C. squadron. We expect to embark tomorrow and sail to the Russell House and have a meeting, weather permitting. We are well in soul, make in mind. Good-bye.

Yours in the water,

(Signed) A. WILKINS, Capt.

DUTCH DIAMOND MERCHANT.

who was converted to leave Holland for wrong-doing, got converted in a London Company and was helped to his feet by the Social Scheme. He has since obtained a situation and paid for the costs of his temporal uplifting.—The French Self-Denial fund this year has increased nearly one-fourth on last year's amount—Seventy Salvation Army day-schools in Gujarat, India, have a regular attendance of over 1,000 children.

The Salvation Army Shoe-blackers' Brigade, at Copenhagen, Denmark, is a thriving branch of the Social work there. One of the Brigade earned $150 the first year.

The Salvation Army is now carrying on work in forty countries and colonies—twelve in Europe, four in Asia, eight in Africa, nine in America, seven in Australia. There are now 12,307 Officers, 5,663 Corps, and about 1,000 Outposts. About 40,000 meetings are held in buildings per week.

Exhibition on behalf of the Dutch Rescue Work has been held by the Marchionale in Amsterdam.—An Agricultural School has been established in India at our Gujarat Farm Colony.—A lady in Sumatra, converted in Christian Mission days, offers to build a barracks and quarters, and give $5,000 if the Commandant will send Officers to open up the work there.

A man who has been a backslider for five years stood up in the Bracebridge barracks after getting converted, and said: "I have been five years trying to square up with the world, but couldn't do it. About a year ago I thought I would manage it, but I fell ill, and the doctors pronounced me incurable. Now, however, the Lord is restoring my health, and I feel that since I have got right with God He will help me to get right with the world—that was to get out of debt."

The way Adjutant Clarke proved to the farmers of Ontario that he was one of the right kind of Salvationists was by not only praying with them in their homes, and talking Salvation to them from a platform, but by lending them a hand in the field at different times, when he saw them stuck. It was no uncommon thing to see the Adjutant take a sick-sow and insist on ploughing of grain as handily as the farmer could do it himself. In fact, it was easy for an agriculturalist to see that he had not forgotten the training of his early days.

Send the Fire.

Tunes.—Come to Me, B. J. 102, 2; In Memoriam, B. J. 208, 2; What's the news? B. J. 12, 3; Oh, so bright, R. J. 11, 3; Will you go? B. J. 276, 2.

1 Thou Christ of burning, cleansing flame,
Send the fire!
Thy blood-bought gift to-day we claim,
Send the fire!
Look down and see this waiting host,
Give us the promised Holy Ghost.
We want another Pentecost,
Send the fire!

God of Elijah, hear our cry,
Send the fire!
He'll make us fit to live or die,
Send the fire!
To burn up every trace of sin,
To bring the light and glory in,
The revolution now begin,
Send the fire!

'Tis fire we want, for fire we plead,
Send the fire!
The fire will meet our every need,
Send the fire!
For strength to ever do the right,
For grace to conquer in the fight,
For power to walk the world in white,
Send the fire!

The GENERAL.

Bless Our Army.

Tunes.—Guide me, great Jehovah, R. J. 121, 1; Calcutta, B. J. 22, 2; Helmsley, B. J. 147, 2; Rousseau, B. J. 189, 1.

2 O Thou God of every nation,
We now for Thy blessing call!
Fit us for full consecration,
Let the fire of Heaven fall!
Bless our Army! With Thy power baptize us all.

Fill us with Thy Holy Spirit,
Make our soldiers white as snow;
Save the world through Jesus' merit,
Satan's kingdom overthrow.
Bless our Army! Send us where we ought to go!

Give us all more holy living,
Fill us with abundant power;
Give the Army more thanksgiving,
Greater victories every hour.
Bless our Army! Be our Rock, our Shield, our Tower.

Backslider, Why Dosty?

Tunes.—Oh, turn ye: or, Oh, boundless Salvation, R. J. 85, 2; B. J. 91.

3 Backslider, backslider, why longer delay?
The Saviour invites you, come, seek Him to-day!
Your soul, now in bondage, He's waiting to free.

And make you henceforth His soldier to be.
Chorus.

The Heavenly gates are blowing.

Your burden of sin and of sorrow so great.

This moment from off you He's willing to take;

Be reconciled now; joy and gladness so true.

He offers to wand'ers, yea, even to you!

There's pardon, rich pardon, the vilest may claim.

Come, kneel at the Cross, and by faith now obtain;

He'll heal your backslidings, His love He'll bestow.

The blood still is flowing, 'twill wash white as snow.

Wild Young Youth.

Tunes.—Nay, but I yield, B. J. 30, 3; St. Michael, B. J. 210, 3; A charge to keep, B. J. 270, 3.

4 Remember, sinful youth,
The end of time draws near;

Hear, then, the solemn word of truth,
"To meet thy God prepare!"

The lightning's soon will flash,
And thunders loudly roll;

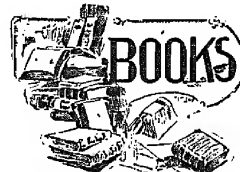

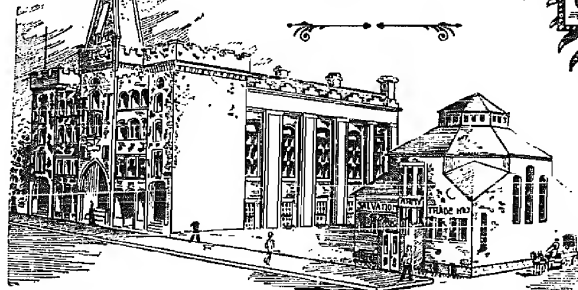

While mountains fall with awful crash,
The heavens pass as a scroll.

This is the time to pray,
While Jesus waits to save;

Come, wash thy every sin away,
"Nath' His soul-cleansing wave."

Salvation.

Tune.—Wonderful Words of Life.

5 Come, despoiler of Heaven and God,
There is a Cleansing Stream!
Fully purchased through Jesus' blood,
Wonderful, Cleansing Stream!

Chorus.

Reconciliation, boundless, full Salvation;
Wonderful Stream! beautiful Stream!
Wonderful, Cleansing Stream!

Come, backslider, from God astray,
There is a Cleansing Stream!
"Come!" the Spirit and Bride do say,
There is a Cleansing Stream!

If you are willing to give up sin,
There is a Cleansing Stream!
If you are willing to be made clean,
There is a Cleansing Stream!

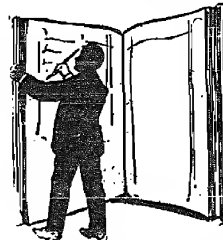

Long you've struggled to mend in vain,
There is a Cleansing Stream!
Yes, to cleanse you from every stain,
There is a Cleansing Stream!

Chorus.

Tune.—It is many years ago since the Crimson tide, deep and wide, flowing
from my Saviour's side,
Making the vilest sinner clean;
Washing hearts white as snow, saving
from eternal woe.

That's why my dear Redeemer died.

Chorus.

It is flowing so free, for a sinner like
thee,
Come, plunge beneath its cleansing
wave!

Rise from sin, death and shame, to a new life within,
And live and fight for Him who died
and died!

Down from Calvary's heights it flows,
cleansing every guilty soul.
Who by faith will come and enter in;
It reaches to thee, and embraces even
me,
That's why my dear Redeemer died.

Soon it will cease to flow, then to hell
you must go.
If your heart is not made clean:
You may now be forgiven—have your soul made fit for Heaven,
That's why my dear Redeemer died.

Turn to Jesus.

Tunes.—There is rest for the weary;
It was early in the morning.

7 When far down in sin I wandered,
Jesus met me in the way;
Spoke in words so soft and tender,
"Weary soul, come home to-day."

Chorus.

Turn to Jesus, He will save you!
This is an Almighty power!
Turn to Jesus, He'll revive you,
He is willing, turn this hour!

NOTES.

AN IT BE POSSIBLE that there are certain Field Officers who never read my notes? Oh! if they did but know the great trouble it causes PRY, their humble servant, in feeling that his do as so as others have the greater number of brave Officers and Soldiers who do report themselves as practically interesting themselves in the sale of our dear old and ever-welcome weekly visitor—THE CRY.

It is high time a few new names were coming along to grace this column. It is not right for just a select few to bear the heat and burden of the day. No! No! No! No! No! No! Let others rise up and declare their willingness to sell this favorite CRY, and if any other Officers feel like confessing to their lukewarmness in days gone by, then do so as others have recently done, and a good feeling will thus be created among other Field Officers and a revival MUST be the outcome. Who'll be the first?

Sing the following altogether to the tune of, "Who'll be the next?" Who'll be the next to take to the booming? Who'll be the next the CRY to sell? Who'll be the next to visit the bar-rooms? And of the love of Jesus tell?

Chorus.

I'll be the next, I'll be the next, I'll be the next to boom the WAR CRY; I'll be the next to boom the CRY so dear.

Boom the CRY so dear. A question to our dear Field Officers—How do you sell the CRY? Is only one among a great number of women who, after the household duties are done, gets to her chair, and for a solid hour finds sweet satisfaction in reading the thrilling facts and incidents of the Salvation War. Boomers should remember this and never let an opportunity pass to get the CRY into the hands of the hard-working mothers.

always sell what I start out with." Now, this is the kind of business I like and if this dear Boomer would start out with 50 and carry out the same principle, what a treat it would be, to be sure!

Captain Norman, of Newport, says that there is great anxiety among the people, not only to get it, but to read it.

Another note of cheer from the famous CREGG, of Quebec. It reads thus: "I just sold 77 CRYs on the street this week. As we were very busy with our Banquet, and I had not time to do any more, I sold 24 in one meeting. I sold one copy to a man who did not know where it was published. He wanted to know if it was a sporting paper." This is rather peculiar, and is simply another argument in favor of the Officers doing all they can to push the CRY into the hands of all.

Then when the burden of the work comes upon the cook, it inspires her to know that after her hot job is over she will have a chance of scanning the pages of the new CRY to see if there is anything in it about her Corps. She is so anxious for the good work to go ahead that while cooking she sings out lustily, "Bless our Army! with Thy power baptize us all." No wonder her work goes so easy.

Here is a poor old suffering and delirious drunkard. Now, surely if the CRY could be got into his hands, and if it could be read to him in his sober moments what a chance there would be for God to shake him up and make him feel the wretchedness of sin. By all means let the drunks be supplied with the CRY. It will do them no harm. Push the sale of our paper in the homes that are sinful.

"Prayer makes the darkened clouds withdraw. Prayer climbs the ladder Jacob saw."

MISSING.

To Parents, Relations and Friends:

We will search for missing or runaway relatives in any part of the globe; befriend, or assist, if possible, wronged girls, women, or children, or any person in difficulty. Address, COMMISSIONER EVA BOOTH, 16 Albert Street, Toronto, Canada, and mark "Enquiry" on the envelope.

If possible, send fifty cents to defray a part of the expenses. We will be glad if our Officers, Soldiers and friends will look through the Missing Column regularly, and if they see any cases which they could help us with, we would be pleased if they would do so.
